

MUSIC THERAPY JOY

Community

training and tools for music therapists in schools

The Music Therapy Joy Community offers training and tools for school-based music therapists and music therapists working with school-aged children, teenagers, or young adults with special needs. In the Music Therapy Joy family, you will find support, encouragement and inspiration! Fill your toolbox and fuel your practice, so you can be the best YOU for your clients and students, while still having the energy to invest in your personal passions and relationships!

Included in the community are 12 group video calls, access to a resource library with new session plans and strategies (the Music Therapy Joy eBox) added monthly, and access to a private Facebook group.

Number of CMTE's: 15

Price: $200 (paid annually) or $240 (across 12-monthly payments of $20)

Instructor: Patina Jackson, MT-BC, owner of Music Therapy Joy, has been serving as a music therapist in special education since 2011, both in practice and as a consultant. She has a love for creating evidenced-based music therapy strategies, including engaging songs and high-quality visual aids and tools, and for providing training and support to school based music therapists.

Objectives:

1. To improve services by collaborating with other music therapists.
(Board Certification Domain V. A, 4)
2. To identify and adapt new goal-based strategies.
(Board Certification Domain III. A, 2)
3. To improve clinical and professional skills by expanding knowledge of special education and/or working with persons with special needs.
(Board Certification Domain V. A, 6)
